DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the limitations of claims 4-7 (spring biased member) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 17, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hansen. The patent to Hansen teaches structure substantially as claimed including a tray (10), comprising a body (12), support mechanism (28, 30) integrally connected to the body, a leg (figs. 8, 9). The structure of Hansen can both be cantilevered supported and supported by a leg structure as a structure is entitled to all of it's uses. The use of clips, recess for structures in trays is well known and commercially used. Applicant is given judicial notice of such.

Claims 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hansen as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Weiss. The patent to Hansen teaches structure substantially as claimed, as discussed above including a mounting structure the only difference being that the mounting structure is not a spring biased dowel structure. However, the patent to Weiss ((figs 5, 6) teaches the use of outwardly extending spring biased dowels to provide for a mount. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to modify the structure of Hansen to include a spring biased dowel mount, as taught by Weiss since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hansen as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Sammons. The patent to Hansen teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including a tray structure, the only difference being there is not a peripheral raised edge. However, the patent to Sammons teaches the use of a peripheral edge to preclude movement of articles placed thereon to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Hansen to include a peripheral edge, as taught by Sammons since such structure are conventional structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Siebenthal, Olsen, Hurley et al, Barrie, Peeno, Umashankar, Richardson, Tomayko, Jr. et al, Ball teach structure similar to applicant's.
